'Lets Think' Lesson Based on the Cognitive Acceleration in Mathematics (CAME) Programme This approach has been shown to significantly raise achievement in mathematics as measured by curriculum attainment and Piagetian-type developmental tasks. In 'Lets Think' lessons, principles such as 'concrete preparation' and 'cognitive conflict' guide instruction that targets conceptual misconceptions in children's understanding of mathematics. Students are given the role of active problem-solvers who need to work together to share and build on each other's ideas to overcome designed perplexity. The approach has a focus on student reasoning and explanation, and relies on the development of 'learning how to learn' skills. 'Thinking lessons' can be 'messy', and do not follow typical classroom norms of learning objectives, differentiation by task and teacher praise.	THA2	Goodmayes Primary School Castleton Road Ilford IG3 9RW	Thursday 19th March 2015 9:20am-10:15am	8

Gross Motor Skills Sessions At Goodmayes, it appears that our children with learning difficulties have poorer gross motor skills than children without these needs. In light of current research there seems to be a connection between difficulties in developing gross motor skills and academic achievement. The Gross Motor programme was developed to address these needs. It is held in the mornings and supervised by TAs. We have found that it is not only improving the children skills, but there seems to be a great improvement in their planning and problem-solving abilities. Some of the skills children will be working on in this session are motor planning a sequencing, postural control and a therapy ball used to reinforce and improve body awareness.	THB1	Goodmayes Primary School Castleton Road Ilford IG3 9RW	Thursday 26th March 2015 9:10am-9:30am (OT session) 9:30am-9:50am meet with TA and Inclusion Leader	6
